VINEYARD

The grapes are sourced from our estate vineyards in Paso Robles. Cooling breezes from the nearby Pacific Ocean contribute foggy mornings and lower summer temperatures which produces exceptional, expressive fruit.

WINEMAKING

The grapes is handpicked at night to ensure that the fruit arrives at the winery very cold. The grapes are delicately destemmed and crushed ever so slightly in order to split the skin. The resulting must is cold soaked for 4 days before being warmed and fermented. After 20 days of fermentation the wine is gently pressed, settled and racked to barrel for 15 + months

WINEMAKER NOTES

Big and bold. Grilled cherries wrapped in bacon dominate with accents of tea leaf and tobacco. Flavors of earth lead into a fully rounded mid-mouth with a satisfying finish. Drinkable now and can age for up to 10 years.
Pair with Osso Buco.
